The David and Helen Gurley Brown Institute for Media Innovation is being established at Columbia and Stanford Universities to inspire and support the creation and development of innovations in media with the potential to inform and entertain in transformative ways. At Columbia University the epicenter of the Brown Institute will be on campus level at historic Pulitzer Hall. Designed by LTL Architects the Institute is being developed to include a variety of spaces that will foster high levels of collaboration and innovation across multiple digital media disciplines.

Construction Activities as of: March 24, 2014

What is happening

- The roughing in of mechanical and electrical infrastructure is substantially complete
- Partitions have been framed and wallboard installation is ongoing
- The subfloor has been installed
- Continued installation and finishing of wallboard
- Fabrication of millwork and metal scrim framing

What to expect

- Regular work hours: Monday — Friday 7:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m.
  - Saturday work scheduled to occur
- Planned Utility Service Interruptions are substantially complete
- Delivery of construction materials to the jobsite

-Please note that all activities are subject to change based on weather and other field conditions-

Need More Information?

- For project updates and information, please visit http://facilities.columbia.edu/bimi
- For project questions or concerns e-mail Projx@columbia.edu or call our Services Center at 212-854-2222, 24 hours a day, seven days a week