The David and Helen Gurley Brown Institute for Media Innovation is being established at Columbia and Stanford Universities to inspire and support the creation and development of innovations in media with the potential to inform and entertain in transformative ways. At Columbia University the epicenter of the Brown Institute will be on campus level at historic Pulitzer Hall. Designed by LTL Architects the Institute is being developed to include a variety of spaces that will foster high levels of collaboration and innovation across multiple digital media disciplines.

Construction Update:
January 7, 2012 through February 1, 2013

What is happening

- Site preparation including the installation of temporary construction barriers around the entry to suite 201 and at the east end of suite 101
- Installation of exterior ramp and fencing
- Starting Jan 7, 2013, contractor will shutdown, secure and disconnect mechanical, electrical, plumbing and fire safety systems supporting the space
- Once all systems have been disconnected and secured, the contractor will begin the demolition and removal of existing partitions, ceiling, floors, connecting stairs and equipment in suite 201 and in the ceiling of suite 101

What to expect

- Regular work hours: 7:00 a.m. – 6:00 p.m. Monday-Friday
  - Certain equipment may be delivered during off-hours pending DOT oversize load requirements

Please note that all activities are subject to change based on weather and other field conditions

Need More Information?

- For project updates and information, please visit http://facilities.columbia.edu/bimi
- For project questions or concerns e-mail Projx@columbia.edu or call our Services Center at 212-854-2222, 24 hours a day, seven days a week